World War II came to a conclusion on August 14, 1945, eight days after the first atomic bomb was dropped on Japan. The men of the U.S.S. YMS 472 were already having thoughts of home, family and togetherness. The weight of the war had finally been lifted, they would soon be going home. Not a single one of them suspected they would soon be introduced to a new type of enemy. Six Days on a Raft is the incredible account of Navy Veteran Bill Harrison, who survived six days and nights on a raft in the south Pacific after his ship sank. As his buddies slipped one by one into the ocean, Bill fought through impossible odds to survive and hold on to his sanity while battling the raging demons of fear, hunger, depression and hopelessness. This is his story of true faith and survival.
